Grandpa's Hand

When I was just a child and
You would hold my hand,
I didn't have a worry,
I didn't understand.

As I grew and
Learned to stand up on my own,
Sometimes I was scared and I felt all alone.

But then there you were standing by my side
You held my hand again and Taught me not to hide.

I am older and wiser now,
Now I understand.
The strength that lies within me
Come from grandpa's hand.

We will always remember you sitting by the window high above looking down at us.
