

JOHN OYSTREK

September 14, 1925 - December 5, 2011

Though I have passed, shed no tears
I have tasted life and faced my fears
To principle and honour I held true
These are strengths I've passed to you

From flesh n' bone my soul is freed
Still you find me close in times of need
By earthly chains I am held no more
Speak true my deeds in family lore

It is through you that I shall carry on
I exist in your heart, I'm not really gone

"Rest easy now, in peace"

Your loving family
